

Graduate School - Newark

The Graduate School-Newark is dedicated to the advancement of scientific and human knowledge in an environment that encourages scholarly inquiry and intellectual growth. Graduate students are expected to develop the analytical and creative skills required for original scholarship, research, and problem solving, as well as a thorough understanding of an academic discipline.

The Graduate School offers masters programs in a broad range of subject areas, including American Studies, Biology, Business and Science, Chemistry, Creative Writing, Computational Biology, Economics, English, Environmental Geology, Environmental Science, Global Affairs, History, Jazz History and Research, Physics, Political Science, and Psychology.

Ph.D. programs are offered in American Studies, Behavioral and Neural Sciences, Biology, Chemistry, Criminal Justice, Environmental Science, Global Affairs, Management, Mathematical Sciences, Nursing, Psychology, Public Administration, and Urban Systems.

Degrees awarded:

Master of Arts

Master of Fine Arts (Creative Writing)

Master of Science

Master of Arts in Teaching (history) (offered jointly with NJIT)

Ph.D.

Taja-Nia Y. Henderson, Dean

RUTGERS
UNIVERSITY | NEWARK

Conklin Hall, Room 241, 175 University Ave., Newark, NJ 07102 | 973.353.5834

web site: gsn.newark.rutgers.edu | application: gradstudy.rutgers.edu | catalog: catalogs.rutgers.edu/generated/nwk-grad_current